

CAN'T SEE THE JOBS FOR THE TREES?

Variety, options, transferable skills.
A career in timber could be for you.

James Jones
& SONS LIMITED

“I graduated with a degree in Politics and Philosophy. I always thought I’d enjoy a job where I could split my time between problem solving and getting stuck in. The culture at James Jones is really good.”

Alexander

“One of the best things about working at James Jones is the community of great people. I’ve been given such a diverse experience of the various roles available and progressed through different jobs and sectors. It’s a great company to work for.”

Aaron

“I started my career straight from school. James Jones provided me with training and my role has progressed to supervisor in that time. It’s a good place to be.”

Ryan

The timber industry is one of Britain’s most important sectors and plays a crucial role in contributing to a negative carbon economy. To keep this one billion pound industry going strong takes much more than just felling trees. The timber and forestry industry offers a varied and diverse career path and includes everything from harvesting and haulage through sales, sawmill management, environmental protection, logistics, customer services and product development to name a few. It is an exciting time to join the timber industry and offers individuals the opportunity to make a positive contribution in reaching Net Zero and in positioning timber as a vital and sustainable material resource.

James Jones & Sons is one of the UK’s largest and most progressive timber companies with core activities in sawmilling, I-Joist and pallet manufacture. We operate seven sawmills throughout Scotland and North England; an engineered wood manufacturing plant in the north of Scotland and have pallet and packaging operations at seventeen sites across the UK.

At James Jones & Sons we offer exciting Management Trainee opportunities for school leavers and graduates to develop and grow their career within our company. We offer a very positive company culture, which provides full support for ambitious individuals to grow and develop; investing in people to become future leaders.

An attractive remuneration package is available to the right individuals.
